STRADIVARIUS

Paris Fashion Week

/15 October, 2026

In Paris, fashion isn’t just seen on the runways; it’s lived and breathed in the streets. You only have to wander through the city during Paris Fashion Week to see for yourself. After taking in the endless looks spotted on the streets, Stradivarius has selected the autumn trends set by the French capital’s street style. A true statement of intent.

The colour palette combines neutral shades such as black, grey and brown with touches of deep red and aubergine. Striped knits are paired with the softer textures of garments tied around the waist. The edit features leather jackets with trench coat silhouettes, jacquard blazers and wool bomber jackets. The cropped jumper collection is also back, alongside long-sleeved striped tops—the season’s standout trend.
Bermuda shorts remain, reimagined for autumn, while leather mini skirts in a range of colours add a bold touch.

To complete the looks, gaiter-style or buckle boots add an edgy touch. These knee-high styles are paired with shorter pieces to bring movement to the outfit. Oversized retro-inspired sunglasses and bags with a crinkled finish and buckle details are the key to elevating your look.