SCARY GOOD LOOKS FOR HALLOWEEN

/15 October, 2026

Halloween is just around the corner and, like every year, it’s a date that divides opinions. Some people fully embrace spooky season, spending months planning their costumes; on the other hand, there are those who don’t like dressing up as a witch or a Catrina at all. If you’re part of the second group, Stradivarius has a collection designed for going out and celebrating your way.

The collection reimagines Halloween codes through a dark, sophisticated aesthetic. Black takes centre stage in a series of monochromatic looks, with lace and leather-effect finishes setting the tone. The collection pairs sensual styles with outfits made for everyday wear. Sheer fabrics and lace bring a delicate touch; knitwear adds volume and contrast; and leather-effect and faux-fur finishes lend a dramatic edge. Visible lingerie, bold volumes and a mix of textures complete a collection that brings Halloween inspiration together with today’s trends.

When it comes to accessories, knee-high boots take centre stage, in a range of styles: lace-up or zip-up, with wide or fitted shafts, and wedge or kitten heels. Bags come in compact sizes and shoulder styles, with croc-effect finishes or stud details. The big news? Watches: the perfect accessory for keeping track of when it’s time to head home—though these looks might make you want to put it off a little.
