STRADIVARIUS

Stradivarius in Treble Clef

/19 November, 2025

At a time when classical music is finding new resonance in pop culture, Stradivarius brings back its iconic treble clef charm, launching a fresh, attitude-filled collection. The brand embraces layering as the key to the season: striped and plain knit sweaters worn one over another, lingerie-inspired pieces paired with denim to create striking contrasts, and a strong focus on faux-fur textures in long coats, cropped versions and vests.

The new drop also features lingerie-style sarongs with sequin details that elevate any outfit, and introduces balloon trousers, one of the season’s standout trends, now reimagined with sheer fabrics. The proposal is completed with shiny-finish bags, high boots and dark sunglasses.